Norfolk, VA – No television, no cell phones, no video games, no computers. Education Youth Sail Training voyages aboard Virginia will keep young sailors' attention focused on the teamwork and cooperation needed to sail a tall ship in the open water of the Chesapeake Bay and beyond.

For those seeking a unique team building adventure for young people between ages 13 and 17, Virginia offers an unparalleled learning experience. Sailing the hand-built 126-foot-long re-creation tall ship requires continual work and problem solving – everyone has an equally important role.

Few opportunities offer the blend of hard work, cooperation and fun that sailing and crewing aboard Virginia will. Working alongside Virginia's experienced 10-person crew, young sailors will tackle the daily tasks required to safely sail the 157-ton vessel. Few shipboard distractions – save for sunset, sunrise and the beauty of the sea – give the young crew the chance to focus on the task(s) at hand. The education sail training voyages teach team building, discipline, communication and decision-making.

Youth Sail Training voyages are available for groups of 16. Youth Sail Training voyages begin and last throughout the summer months. Week long reservations are scheduled on a first come first-served basis. For more information on these voyages call 757-627-7400.
